BREWER'S YEAST

Natural support for coat and digestion

Brewer's yeast is a natural product and brings many positive effects due to its nature and as a nutrient supplier. Due to the various nutrients, it contributes to an improved coat metabolism and thus a shiny coat. In addition, the high content of B vitamins supports digestion, has a positive influence on the stomach and has intestinal regulating properties.

Furthermore, brewer's yeast serves as a protein supplier and pollutant binder. The content of high-quality amino acids is also particularly noteworthy. Due to the natural nutrients and vital substances, brewer's yeast can support the health and well-being of your horse.

Feeding recommendation:

- Daily approx. 10 g per 100 kg body weight.

Brewer's yeast is highly accepted and can therefore be easily mixed into the feed. For higher performance requirements, the dosage can be increased slightly.

Packing: 5 kg bucket
